Student Health Advisory Committee Outreach

In conjunction with Student Health's Prevention Services department, the Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC) hosted a special speaker for this semester's SHAC Outreach on March 3rd, 2015. Helen Stubbs is a nationally recognized expert on alcohol prevention and was on campus for two days of prevention discussions. The forum went from 12:00 to 1:30pm, and SHAC provided pizza as well.

Objectives of the SHAC Outreach Forum

- To inform about what is effective high risk drinking prevention on campus
- To inform more about how students can engage in effective prevention on campus
- To inform how student leaders can advocate for effective alcohol prevention

Helen Stubbs, Vice President
Higher Education - Everfi

Helen supports EverFi's work in providing services to help maximize the health and development of college students. She went to EverFi in 2008 to help launch the Alcohol Prevention Coalition, disseminating innovative research, best practices, and tools to support campuses in their alcohol prevention efforts. Prior to EverFi, Helen worked exclusively in the non-profit sector, most recently 10 years with the Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse and Violence Prevention and the Center for College Health and Safety.

The SHAC Outreach Forum included representatives from major student constituent groups, as well as representatives from university partners with whom Student Health departments interact and collaborate. The purpose of SHAC Outreach Forum is to provide a venue for students and campus partners to communicate needs, concerns, and questions to Student Health. In addition, Student Health is also able to share updates about our services and current news with students.
